NEGRO VOTING IN GEORGIA.

The spectacle presented to the gaze of the people of this city, on Monday morning, the first day of the recent election, says the Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel, is one which will linger in their memories for years to come. They saw a long line of sable voters, headed by a "ring master" on horseback, brandishing an old cavalry sabre, and all marching to the invigorating music of a wheezing fife and the dull thud of a broken-headed drum. These were the voters—the intelligent law makers and executive and legislative creators of the county of Richmond. It will scarcely be doubted that not a single son of Ham who toilfully trudged the streets in that motly procession could read or write, or had the least idea of the character of a ballot, or who or for what he was about to vote, save that Captain Bryant and the boss "drivers" had told him he must vote for the Radicals. As this long line of ignorant, vindicitive and defiant negro voters passed through our principal thoroughfares to the City Hall, where the mockery of an election was going on, every right-minded white man must have felt that representative government, founded upon such suffragans, was not only a solemn mockery, but a crime against virtue, law, order, peace and human liberty. The alacrity with which each member of the fantastic procession conformed to the different and frequently repeated orders from the "boss drivers" showed how completely they were under the control of their masters, and how much they esteemed it a privilege to be thus driven like brutes through our streets. Upon reaching the City Hall, ballots were placed in their hands, and they were directed to hand them to the same man and in the same way their driver disposed of his. And this is what is called manhood suffrage, the basis of constitutional liberty and the salvation of free government!

"BEHIND THE SCENE."S

This is a title of a book by "Mrs. Keckley, for thirty years a slave, but more recently modiste and friend to Mrs. Lincoln," which will shortly be published. It is pretty liberally interspersed with miscellaneous scan. mag., and will be a rich morsel for scandal mongers. We are treated with displays of feminine jealousy on the part of Mrs. Lincoln, and of the moral and religious character of her husband.—Mrs Lincoln's opinions of generals and statesmen are given. She says of Chief Justice Chase, then Secretary of the Treasury, in conversation with her husband, that "he is anything for Chase. If he thought he could make anything by it he would betray you to-morrow." Of Mr. Seward: "It makes me mad to see you sit still and let that hypocrite Seward twine you around his finger as if you were a skein of thread." General McClellan she pronounces to be "a humbug." General Grant even is not exempt from the withering criticism of this worthy lady. "Yes, he generally manages to claim a victory, but such a victory! He loses two men to the enemy's one. He has no management, no regard for life. If the war should continue four years longer, and he should remain in power, he would depopulate the North. I could fight an army as well myself. According to his tactics, there is nothing under the heavens to do but to march a new line of men up in front of the Rebel breast works, to be shot down as fast as they take their position, and to keep marching until the enemy grows tired of the slaughter. Grant, I repeat, is an obstinate fool and a butcher." She further adds that "should Grant ever be elected President of the United States she would desire to leave the country, and remain absent during his term of office." So the General will have, at all events, one most decided opponent in his Presidential schemes. Mrs. Keckley, further on, tells us of her mistress that "search the world over, and you will not find her counterpart." On Mrs. Lincoln's departure from the White House, subsequent to the death of her husband, Mrs. Keckley informs us that lady "owed different store billsamounting to $70,000," and that "Mr. Lincoln knew nothing of these bills, and the only happy feature of his assassination was that he died in ignorance of them." This secret is disclosed in regard to Mrs. Lincoln's debts "in order to explain why she should subsequently have labored under pecuniary embarrassments." We are also told the well-worn story of Mrs. Lincoln's "old clothes" experiences, with the addition of many private facts connected with that delectable adventure; while, in an appendix, a series of letters from the widow, purely private and unhesitatingly confidential, are published to prove the authenticity of what has been said in the preceding chapters.—Washington Express.

THE REASON.—At a certain college, the senior class was under examination for degrees. The professor of natural philosophy was badgering in optics. The point under illustration was that, strictly and scientifically speaking, we see no objects, but their images depicted on the retina.—The worthy professor, in order to make the matter plainer, said to the wag of the class: "Mr. Jackson, did you ever actually see your father?" Bill replied, promptly, "No, sir." "Please explain to the committee why you never saw your father." "Because, replied Mr. Jackson, very gravely, he died before I was born, sir."

WHAT A WORKING MAN THINKS.

In a recent speech, Hon. John A. Bingham, a member of Congress from Ohio, exclaimed. "Thank God there is no such thing as equal taxation."—Upon this a Montpelier (Vermont) working man, says the Argus, not formerly a member of the Democratic party, comments as follows:

Of course Bingham and his party represent the bondholder who has his horses, his carriages, his wine parties, his plate, his bonds.

I am a working man. I have my tin dinner pail, my tool chest, and my hard palms, and tired bones at night, and my hasty breakfast in the morning, a lean purse, and a tax receipt at the end of the year.

When quarter day comes the bondholder cuts off his coupons; and draws his interest, and thanks God there is no such thing as equal taxation.

I draw my purse and pay my rent.

And when the year is gone he counts up his gains, rustles his bonds, and has a wine supper. And when the year is gone, I look at the great robber, the tax receipt, go to bed with an aching heart, to dream of Democratic times, light and equal taxation.

The bondholder does nothing. He is supported.

I pay State taxes.
I pay county taxes.
I pay village taxes.
I pay town taxes.
I pay revenue taxes.
I pay direct taxes.
I pay taxes on everything.
I pay taxes to support Congress.
I pay taxes to support the Government.

I pay taxes to support the bondholders who pay no taxes for any purpose whatever.

I shall vote for equal taxation, and down with the party who "thanks God that there is no such thing as equal taxation."

"POOR MEN ARE NOT TAXED."

"Poor men are not taxed," said a deluded workingman; "they can't tax me, because I am worth nothing!" Can they not? Before the war, you paid less than one-half for all you eat, drink and wear, than you pay now, and before the war you had not the support of five millions of niggers to provide for, who now eat, drink and wear at your expense. Taking the cost of supporting life to-day, and a reckless, wicked, wealth, destroying administration, and the poor white voter in the United States, who is not worth a dollar in the world, is the heaviest taxed mortal on God's earth. Sleeping or waking; well or ill; at labor or at rest; week days and Sundays—the taxes are being piled on him who is not worth a dime, by those above him in the scale of property, who are worth thousands and hundreds of thousands. Remember, you moneyless, honest toiler, if you eat, drink, wear clothes—if you are warmed and sheltered, you are thus made to pay your own taxes and the taxes of the capitalists of the country also. They are indirectly thus piled upon you. The great public debt is a curse to you, if not a curse to the capitalist. Remember this when you go to the polls next November.

UNGRATEFUL CHILDREN.—An Eastern proverb which declares that there are no ungrateful children, is nearer the truth than it appears. It is but another version of the Biblical maxim: "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will never depart from it." The parent who does really train up a child in the way he should go, is the parent who truly deserves the gratitude of his child, and he is the only parent who can hope to receive it in full measure. How many parents there are, who, after indulging their children's every desire, are sincerely astonished to find them making no return of love and gratitude. Gratitude! For an impaired digestion? For a will uncurbed? For a mind empty? For hands unskillful? For a childhood wasted? For the chance of forming a noble character lost? These are poor claims upon the gratitude of a child. Bring up your child so that, at mature age, he has a sound constitution, healthy desires and an honest heart, a well-formed mind, good manners, and a useful calling, and you may rely upon his making you such a rich return of grateful affection as shall a thousand times repay you for the toil and self-denial which such a training costs. No—there are no ungrateful children, when there is anything to be grateful for.

RATTLESNAKE BITE.—Ammonia, or hartshorn, is doubtless the best remedy known for the bite of the rattlesnake. Alchohol is good, but not to be relied upon for a cure in all cases. So with several kinds of vegetable remedies; they cure in some cases, but not in all. Next to ammonia, mud is probably the best. A son of Mr. J. D. Sharp, of Spring Valley, Minnesota, was bitten on the foot by a rattlesnake. Several remedies were applied, each said to be a certain cure; but they all failed. He grew spotted, like a rattlesnake, they said, and became very sick, and likely to die. At length they put his foot in a pail of mud. He was relieved in fifteen minutes, and continued to improve until he was well. If one has such a bite to treat, and cannot get ammonia, let him give whisky, or some other stimulant internally, and apply mud to the part bitten, changing it once in three hours during the day.—I. T. in N. Y. Observer.

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS.

The following anecdotes are told of W. M. Swain, formerly proprietor of the Philadelphia Ledger:

As a business man he was very rigid in adherence to what he conceived to be sound bnsiness principles. "Never fix a price on another man's goods," was one of these principles. A paper dealer met him one day on the street.

"Mr. Swain," said he, "I have some excellent white paper of the size of the Ledger. Do you wish to buy?"

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"What are you willing to give for it?" was the next inquiry.

"Precisely the worth of it sir, neither more nor less, was the rejoinder.

"Oh, of course. But I mean, Mr. Swain, what can you afford to give me for it."

"Double the price, sir, if I chose, but I don't."

"But, fix the price, sir."

"I never put a price on another man's goods. If you don't know the value of your own paper you should not dispose of it. If you do, you are wasting my time and your own in idle circumlocutions to get the advantage of me. Tell me your price. If it suits, well, if not you may find some other customer."

Business is business, and nothing should interfere with it, was another of his business principles. Consequently he would take nothing off the price of an advertisement on the score of friendship, or benevolence, or any other of the ten thousand petty excuses made to "nip the printer." A gentleman once called upon him with an advertisement of a benfiit for a poor widow with several helpless children.

"How much for the advertisement under the circumstances?

"Just what it comes to," said Mr. Swain, "business is business sir, charity is another question."

"But to a poor widow, sir, every dollar saved is a matter of serious moment to her family."

"Business is business, I repeat, sir. What I choose to give in charity is my own private affair. My business has nothing do with it."

"Then you will take no less?"

"Not a cent, sir."

"The gentleman paid the bill very reluctantly, amounting to perhaps, two dollars and was going out of the office reflecting rather severely in his own mind upon the parsmony of Mr. Swain, when the latter stopped him.

"Do you know this widow? Is she honest and deserving?"

"She is, sir."

Mr. Swain, slipped a $10 bill in the gentleman's hand, and turning on his heel, walked away, saying "business is business."

GET out, you nasty puppy—let me alone, or I'll tell my ma!" cried Sal Smith to her lover, Jack Jones, who sat about ten feet from her pulling dirt from the chimney jam.

"I ain't touchi'n on you, Sal," responded Jack.

"Well perhaps you don't mean to nuther,—do you?"

"No I don't."

"Cause you are so tarnal scary you long-legged, lantern-jawed, slab-sided, pigeon-toed, gangle-kneed owel, you hain't got a tarnal bit of sense, get along home with you."

"Now, Sal, I love you and you can't help it! and ef you don't let me stay and court you my dady 'll sue yourn for that cow he sold him t'other day. By jingo he said he'd do it."

"Well, look here Jack, if you want to court me you'd better do it as a white man does that thing—not set off there as though as if I was a pizen!"

"How on airth is that?"

"Why, side right up here, and hug and kiss me, as if you really had some of the bone and sinner of a man about you. Do you s'pose a woman's only made to look at, you stupid fool you?"

"Well!" said Jack, drawing a long breath, "if I must I must, for I love you, Sal!"

"That's the way we do it, old hoss; that is acting like a white man orter."

"Oh Jerusalem and pancakes!" exclaimed Jack, "if this aint better than any apple-sarse marm ever made, a darned sight, Sal. Crack-e-e; buckwheat cakes and 'lasses ain't nowhere 'long side of you, Sal. Oh how I do love you!"

Here their lips came together, and the report which followed was like pulling of a horse's hoof out of the mire, and on the following Sunday they were married.

"PIE PLANT."—One of the most valuable and healthy articles for making pies during the summer season is rhubarb, or, as some call it, "pie plant." Every one who owns a garden should cultivate it. It requires deep tillage, the deeper the better, and heavy manuring. The large roots and leaves require plenty of room to extend above and below the soil. Some persons trench the soil to the depth of two feet, when preparing to plant rhubarb, but without drainage very deep tillage is useless. If propagated by dividing the roots, the plants should be set out singly, and not in threes, as is so often done. One or two buds is sufficient in each dividing root. The ordinary varieties are generally planted in drills two and a half or three feet asunder, the plants of a similar distance apart in the rows. Some of the larger varieties require to be planted much further apart—say five between the rows, and three feet between the plants.

HORRORS OF WAR.

Since the creation of the world fourteen thousand millions of human beings have fallen in the battles which man has waged against his fellow creature—man. Suppose this amazing number of men were to hold each other by the hand at arm's length they would extend over fourteen millions, five hundred and eighty-three thousand, three hundred and thirty-three miles of ground and would encircle the globe on which we dwell six hundred and eight times! If we allow the weight of a man to be on average one cwt. (this is below the mark,) we shall come to the conclusion that six millions two hundred and fifty thousand tons of human flesh have been mangled, disfigured, gashed and trampled under foot. The calculation will appear more striking when we state that if only the four-fingers of every one of those fourteen thousand millions of human beings were to be held in a straight line they would reach more than six thousand miles beyond the moon; and that if a person were to undertake to count the number, allowing nineteen hours a day, and seven days in a week, at the rate of six thousand per hour, it would occupy that person three hundred and thirty-six years. And awful is the consideration! three hundred and fifty thousand pipes of human blood have been spilt in battles! Who would not exclaim with Bishop Hall—"Give me the man who can devise how to save troops of men from killing, his name shall have room in my calender. There is more true honor in civic garland for the preserving of one subject, than in a laurel for the victory over many enemies." Or, with Bishop Taylor—"If men were only subject to Christ's law, then could they never go to war with each other."—Dr. Thomas Dick.

A SHARP GIRL.—A spruce looking young girl, carrying a bundle, was accosted in the streets of Philadelphia by a man who chucked her under the chin, and said he would like to accompany her home. "Well, do," said the girl, "but hold my bundle while I tie my shoe." The man took the bundle, when the girl started off on a run.—The man felt a slight movement in the bundle, and in great trepidation started after her, repeatedly bawling out, "Here, you woman, come back and take your baby." Soon a crowd gathered, to learn the nature of the distress. "A woman gave me her baby to hold, and then ran off," piteously exclaimed the man of burden. "Take it to the alms house," shouted some half a dozen voices. "Let us see it, first." cried one more sagacious than the rest; and, as a large coarse towel was unfolded, out jumped a full grown cat, who scampered off amid the vociferous shouts and laughter of all present save one, who looked awfully. It seems that a lady, desiring to rid her house of one of these animals, whose petty larcenies in the kitchen were a source of great annoyance, had commissioned the servant girl to take it out of the neighborhood and drop it.

MECHANICAL GENIUS.—The Paris Patria contains the following: A young man aged eighteen, who belonged to a respectable family in Paris, had, about a year ago, been condemned for theft to five years imprisonment.—His conduct in prison being quite exemplary, he gained the good opinion of the director, who remarked in him a peculiar aptness for mechanical contrivances. A few days ago he begged the director to tell him what o'clock it was, that he might set his watch.—"You have a watch, then?" asked the director. "Only since yesterday, sir" said the prisoner, and to the astonishment of the director, produced one made of straw. The little masterpiece is two-and-a-half inches in diameter, about one-half of an inch thick, and will go for three hours without winding up. The dial plate is of paper, and a pretty little straw chain is attached to the whole. The instruments which the prisoner had at his command were two needles, a pin, a little straw and thread. Several persons of distinction, moved by his surprising genius for mechanics, are now endeavoring to obtain his liberation.

FACTORY OVERSEERS IN MASSACHUSETTS.—There is a law in Massachusetts which is intended to regulate the employment of children in factories. The officer appointed to enforce this law reports as follows: In Fall River he found one thousand children employed in factories, mostly of foreign parentage, in generally low condition, ignorant in many cases of their own ages, earning very low wages, and deprived in great part, or altogether, of the school privileges which the law requires. To illlustrate the spirit of some of the employers, the officer inquired of the agent of one of the principal factories there whether it was the custom to do anything for the physical, intellectual, or moral welfare of the work people. The answer would not have been out of place to the captain of a coolie ship: "We never do; as for myself, I regard my work people as I regard my machinery; so long as they can do my work for what I choose to pay them, I keep them, and get out of them all I can. What they do, or how they fare, outside of my walls I do not know. They must look out for themselves, as I do for myself. When my machinery gets old and useless, I reject it and get new; and these people are part of my machinery."

CERTAIN CURE FOR FOUNDER.—As soon as you discover that the horse is foundered, take him to the nearest branch or stream of water and tie him in it, standing the water nearly up to his belly—his head being so high that he cannot drink. If the weather is warm, let him stand in the stream several hours; then take him out, rub his legs thoroughly to promote circulation, and again tie him in the water, if he is still lame. By repeating this process two or three times, the horse will be effectually cured. If the weather is cold when the horse is foundered, that is, if it is in winter, the horse must not be allowed to stand in the water more than about twenty minutes at a time, he should be taken out and his legs rubbed diligently till they become dry and warm and the circulation of the blood made active, and this process must be repeated till the horse is cured, which will be generally within twenty-four hours. This remedy will cost nothing, can do no posible harm, and will in every instance, cure, if the disease has not been too long standing. Don't be afraid to try it.—Rural World.

ARBITRARY POWER.—Lord Chesterfield, in his speech on the liberty of the press, very forcibly says:

"Arbitrary power has seldom or never been introduced into any country at once. It must be introduced by slow degrees, and as it were step by step, lest the people should see its approach. The barriers and fences of the people's liberties must be plucked up one by one; and some plausible prtences must be found for removing or hoodwinking one after another of those sentries who are posted by the constitution of a free country for a warning."

How pertinent all this is to the present condition of our unhappy country. How cunningly and how stealthily have the advocates of despotism, under the prentice of enlarging liberty, step by step retarded her advance, until now it is difficult to say where liberty ends and where arbitrary power begins. There not a single guaranteed right that has not been struck down—not a single constitutional landmark that has not been torn up—and the people, hoodwinked and blinded by one pretence or another, now find all their liberties gone.

PRESEVERANCE.—Henry Clay thus spoke: Constant, perservering application will accomplish anything. To this quality if I may be allowed to speak of myself, do I owe the little success which I have attained. Left in early life to work my own way alone, without friends or pecuniary resources and with no more than a common education, I saw that the pathway before me was steep and rugged, and the height upon which I had ventured to fix the eye of my ambition could be reached only by toil most severe and a purpose the most indomitable. But shrinking from no labor, disheartened by no obstacles, I struggled on. No opportunity, which the most watchful vigilance could secure, to exercise my power, was permitted to pass by unimproved.

"Breeches of faith!" screamed Mrs. Partington, as she heard that term applied to Mexican violations of the armistice. "Well, I wonder what they will have next. I have heard tell of cloaks of hypocrisy, and robes of purity, but I never heard of the breeches of faith before. I hope they are made of something that won't change and wear out as old Deacon Gudgin's faith did, for he was always changing. He went from believing that nobody would be saved to believing that all would be, and at last turned out a phrenolger and didn't believe in nothing! Wonder if it's as strong as cassimere?" and she bit off her thread, and prepared a new needle full.

EXPRESSSONS of OPINION.—Colonel Forney, in one of his letters to the Press, says that "there is not a Senator in Congress who has not on more than one occasion, expressed or entertained an opinion in favor of his (Mr. Johnson's) removal from office." This is not given as a reason why they are disqualified to sit as jurors and decide on his removal, but as a conclusive reason why they should not vote for acquittal. It may strike unprejudiced people as rather a curious perversion of justice, but it does not strike Col. F. in that light.—New York Times.

RATIONS FOR VOTES.—The New York Times (republican) says:

"The mayor (by military appointment) of Augusta, Ga., has made a proposition to the city council that rations be issued to needy parties deprived of employment for "voting as their consciences approved," and that a tax be levied on property-holders for carrying out this design. This is a very bad form of confiscation, which will work far more harm in its effects upon the black race than upon the whites, whom it is intended to injure."

A traveler through a country town in Maine where there are no hotels, obtained lodging with a farmer. The next morning when he enquired for his bill, the farmer said: "85 cents for meals and lodging, and 25 cents for squirting tobacco juice over the clean floor."

A LADY, who was suffering under an indisposition, told her husband that it was with the greatest difficulty she could breathe, and the effort distressed her exceedingly. "I wouldn't try, my dear," soothingly responded the husband.

A LVDY asked a minister whether a person might be fond of dress and ornament without being proud. "Madam," said the preacher, "when you see a fox's tail peeping out of the hole, you may be sure the fox is within."

REPUBLICAN GOVERNMENT, Civil Liberty and Constitutional Rights!

NO STANDING ARMY!

NO FREEDMEN'S BUREAU!

NO NEGRO STATES!

White Men Must Rule America!

"Light, more light!" is the startling cry of the honest people groping in the darkness of Radicalism. "Light, more light!" shouts the groaning taxpayer, bending under the load which a Radical Congress has heaped upon him. "Light, more light!" is the pleading cry that comes to us from those who earnestly seek a remedy for the disease that is tugging at the vitals of the nation. Look and ye shall see! Read and ye shall know! The BEDFORD GAZETTE, for the Presidential Campaign, will be a complete compendium of political news, speeches, documents and every thing that pertains to a political canvass in the columns of a weekly newspaper. It will be published from the first day of June until the seventh of November, next, at the following low terms, cash in advance:

One copy,	$ .75
Ten copies,	6.00
Twenty copies,	11.00
Fifty copies,	25.00

Not only should every Democrat have his county newspaper, during the coming campaign, but he should likewise make it a point to furnish his Republican neighbor a copy. This is the plan upon which our opponents have acted for years, and it is about time that Democrats do something of the same sort. NOW, GO TO WORK and put your Democratic newspaper into the hands of every Republican who will read. If you will do this you will accomplish more good in six months than you will by any other means in six years. Democratic politicians, throughout the county, are enabled, by the above low terms, to circulate Democratic newspapers at a very small cost. We appeal to them to see to getting up clubs, and to see to it in time. Now is the time to sow the seed. After a little while the heat of passion and prejudice will beam upon the public mind in all its intense fierceness, and then seed-time will have passed. Friends, let us hear from you!

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Democrats of Bedford County will meet at the usual places for holding Delegate Elections, on SATURDAY, JUNE 20, 1868, for the purpose of electing two delegates from each election district, to the Democratic County Convention, to meet at the Court House, in Bedford, on MONDAY, JUNE 22, 1868, which Convention will put in nomination a County Ticket to be supported at the ensuing election, and transact such other business as may properly come before it. The Democrats of each district will also select a Vigilance Committee for the ensuing year, and make return of the names to the President of the Convention. The Delegate Elections to be open from the hour of one o'clock, P. M., to the hour of 6 P. M.

GEO. MARDORFF,

W. C. SCHAEFFER, Sec'y.

A COLORED DELEGATE to the Chicago Convention, who had been in Washington some days and had become acquainted with the faces of many of the prominent public men, was in the wildly excited crowd on Monday week, that filled all the approaches to the Senate, jostling about among his white brethren. When he saw Chief Justice Chase enter a carriage, with Senators Fessenden, Johnson and Sprague, followed by Henderson, Trumbull Grimes and Van Winkle, he exclaimed, "Dar dey go, 'totin de 'peachment 'long wid 'em!"

IT is said that a committee of such incorruptible patriots as Cameron, Cattell and Ramsay, is to be appointed, at an early day, to investigate charges of corruption against Trumbull and Fessenden! The great experience of these Senators suggests their names at once.

GOV. GEARY IN HIS "MANSION."

We are indebted to the Harrisburg State Guard for a full account of the visit to Governor Geary of a number of members of the National Lutheran Synod, which was in session in that city last week.

After the guests had assembled, the Rev. Dr. Pohlman proceeded to address the Governor. We have no desire to indulge in severe criticism of the gentleman's address, but if the visit was one of courtesy on the part of the heads of a great Christian denomination, to the executive of a great State, then was the speech—with its cant about "loyalty," "reconstruction" and all that, and its ridiculous flattery of the Governor,—in exceedingly bad taste. We make an extract:

"I know it is usual to address the chief magistrate of Pennsylvania as his 'Excellency', but in New York it is our custom to think and speak of General Geary, remembering the battle among the clouds, and the triumphant march to the sea—as the brave defender of our Union, and I am therefore inclined to address you as the brave General of the Republic." &c.

That touch about the clouds, is very fine. Did the Doctor mean that the pious Geary had been translated to the skies, amid cherubim and seraphim, just out of reach of unfriendly bullets, and had come down in the moment of victory? But, in the meantime, while Geary, perched on the edge of a cloud, was serenely surveying the field, where were Sherman and Thomas and McPherson?

"Your Geary's a gallant commander,
But there are others as gallant as he!"

What follows in the Doctor's address concerning the Governors' intimate relations with Heaven, we may not allude to, as such things are among men's privatest affairs. After further speech, curiously mingling politics and religion, Dr. Pohlman withdrew, and the Governor arose, Jenkins tells us, with "evident emotion." After welcoming the delegates to his mansion, he proceeded to relieve himself of the emotion. "Ideas," he said, "crowded upon him. He did not know which to express first. The address of the President had overwhelmed him." We confess that the allusion to the clouds was somewhat of a stunner. Soldier-like, he spoke of the CHURCH MILITANT, as a grand army of christians going forward, battling in the sacred cause of Right against Wrong, with capital letters; marching under the banner of Temperance against King Alcohol, also with emphatic types. Thus far there is nothing in the weight of the "ideas" to overwhelm the Governor, or begging Dr. Pohlman's pardon, the "brave General of the Republic." After struggling manfully amid a "crowd of ideas," in which he seemed for a time to be lost, the General emerged triumphantly, thus:

"I feel it my duty, as chief Magistrate of this State, to extend my sympathies and my co-operation to all the christian churches of this commonwealth. I am ready to sustain them in their good work, and to help them to carry it to success. I am now equally ready to sustain it as I have been, and as I am still ready to sustain the cause of my country. I am as well prepared to lay down my life for this cause, as I have been to lay it down for the cause of my country."

While there is no overwhelming weight of "Ideas" in this burst, there is an oppressive and all pervading presence of the first letter of the word.—We are satisfied that his Excellency would never have used such a commonplace, were there not a capital "I" to it.

But does our heroic General intend to turn missionary? Has he determined that when his brief term expires, he will seek no further among the vain and wicked of this world for office, but devote himself to the cause of temperance and humanity? Have the little hints lately received at Philadelphia, from ungrateful soldiers and citizens, turned the "ideas" of the "General of the Republic," to loftier things than such baubles as Governor and Vice President? But we hope it is not his intention to deliver temperance lectures, for the taste of the vulgar is against his style; and many members of the G. T. whisper that his speech is garnished too much with his favorite pronoun, hardly leaving enough of the article or his humbler brethren. If it be really his purpose to enter the great field of moral reform, what a work is opened to him among his Radical associates! From the experience he has gathered among them, his services would be invaluable.—He could tell us, now that Impeachment is as dead as "old King Nine," what were the inducements among Pennsylvania Radicals to commit that great wrong. He could reveal all about the "rings" already formed, under his eyes, in Harrisburg, and Philadelphia, to distribute the offices and share the spoils of the Treasury under the immaculate Ben. Wade. Nay, he could read endless homilies to the rising generation, on the bitter disappointments that wait on those who put their trust in princes and politicians.

WAITING FOR THE VERDICT.

The radicals in Congress solemnly formed the highest court known to the constitution, to try the President of the United States, and promised a full, fair and impartial trial; but no sooner did they begin to have misgivings about the verdict, than they invoked mass meetings of their most desperate followers, to threaten and denounce the court. One Senator, (Henderson, of Missouri,) is impudently requested to resign, if he cannot vote for conviction; others, the purest and best men of the party, are openly charged with corruption, and others threatened with the heaviest punishment the party can inflict. But despite the howls and shrieks of Greeley and Forney, and the telegraphic despatches of Butler, Logan and Washburne, the people hold no mass meetings, but calmly await the verdict.

But what say the plain people of the country to this new phase of radicalism, this infamous attempt to tamper with the consciences of the members of the high court of Impeachment? What would the good people of Bedford county say, if, while a jury deliberating within the walls of the court house, a mob were to gather without and fiercely demand a verdict according to their wishes? Yet this is what has been inaugurated by this party that constantly boasts of its love of law and order. No doubt there are many blind and besotted partizans who will say this is all right. But the day will surely come when every honest man will blush that he belongs to a party that can resort to such disgraceful means to gain a political end.

The patterns and models of these Radical fanatics were the French Jacobins, who threatened with the guillotine, all who dared to vote against the conviction of Louis XVI. Mobs led on by wretches like Marat, Sauterre and Baboeuf, men no worse than Butler, Forney and Brownlow, surrounded the doors of the convention, and demanded the death of the King. History records the fate of those who in that fearful time, under the corruption of fear and the oppression of conscience, violated their oaths, and voted the death of their Chief Magistrate. Those who voted for acquittal were sent to the scaffold, or, hunted like wild beasts, wandered up and down the earth, outcasts and fugitives, until France, rent by factions, and bleeding, her constitution, destroyed, threw herself despairingly into the hands of a military despot. Can it be that the Radicals are preparing for us the same fate in nominating the master of fifty battalions, as their candidate for President?

ACQUITTED!

The vote was taken on the eleventh article of the Impeachment, on Saturday last, and the Psesident was acquitted. The vote stood 35 for conviction, 19 for acquittal. Seven Republican Senators, Fessenden, Fowler, Grimes, Henderson, Ross, Trumbull and Van Winkle, voted for acquittal. This was considered the strongest article. After the vote, the Court adjourned until next Tuesday. The Radical party is now hopelessly ruined. Acquittal, or removal, will be alike fatal to it. Its best men, such as Chase, Fessenden, Trumbull and Grimes, have been compelled to throw themselves into its path and arrest its reckless career, and they have done it. God be thanked for these upright men in the hour of our country's need!

JOHN A. LOGAN, the grand Tycoon of the "Grand Army of the Republic," has issued a florid order directing that the "G. A. R." strew the graves of dead soldiers with flowers on the 30th of this month. Now, it is all right and proper that this floral offering to the gallant dead should be made, and we recommend everybody to join in the tribute; but we desire to call attention to the fact that this order of the "G. A. R.," is a secret, oath-bound political organization, and the Impeacher Logan takes this method of attracting to his sworn cabal, the honest, the patriotic and the unsuspecting. Shame on such trickery as would even make the grave a stepping stone to success! We say, let the flowers be strewn, but not because "dirty work" Logan suggests it, or the secret, oath-bound "G. A. R." directs it. Let this thing be done independently of cliques, or parties, or midnight leagues.

THE Radical National (!) Convention meets at Chicago to-day (Wednesday.) It will doubtless nominate for President, the fellow who was proved a liar a few months ago by five members of President Johnson's Cabinet, and some other scalawag, like Wade, Wilson, or Colfax, for Vice President. There are thirty-eight coal black Negro delegates to the Convention! Great God! Is this what the "Republican" party has come to!

SHAME!

Benjamin F. Wade tried to vote Johnson out of, and himself into, the Presidency, on Saturday last. This bronze-faced old blasphemer coolly stood up in the Senate, and brazenly cast his vote as a juror in a cause in which he was pecnniarily interested to the amount of a salary of $20,000!!! Shame, where is thy blush! Oh! Radicalism, how low art thou fallen!

BEN. BUTLER complains that Fessenden, Henderson and Trumbull were so unkind as not to let their "old friends" know how they intended to vote long ago. It would have saved such an amount of useless vaporing.—Butler snivels out like Rob the Grinder, that it was "a goin' back on coves wot they know'd!" Greely, on the other hand, abuses Senator Grimes without stint, because he did let his old friends know how he meant to vote.

GREASY JACK HAMILTON, of Texas, a new Impeachment manager, has lately arrived in Washington. He addressed a carpet bag mob in that city, last week, and his speech is supposed to have made a profound impression on doubtful Senators.

IMPEACHMENT.

THE ELEVENTH ARTICLE VOTED ON.

The President Acquitted.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Article 11th, of the Impeachment, has been voted on. Guilty, 35; Not Guilty, 19.—Messrs. Fowler, Fessenden, Grimes, Henderson, Van Winkle, Trumbull and Ross, voting Not Guilty.

The Court adjourned until the 26th inst., without voting on any other article but the 11th.

WASHINGTON, May 16.

SENATE.—The Senate met at 11.30. The galleries were full.

Mr. Trumbull reported back from the Judiciary Committee the bill for the admission of Arkansas without amendment. Laid over.

Mr. Hendricks gave notice that he would present a minority report, and Mr. Drake said he would offer an amendment when it came up for action.

Unimportant bills were introduced and various messages received from the House

The Senate resolved itself into the High Court of Impeachment.

Mr. Johnson inquired whether the order of Senator Williams was debatable. The Chief Justice replied it was not. Mr. Johnson said he would like to make a remark on it. Mr. Conness objected. The question was then put on taking up Mr. Williams' order for action, and it was decided—yeas 34, nays 19.

Senator Wade voted for the first time and voted in the affirmative. Mr. Grimes was not present. The question was then taken on adopting the order, and it was carried by the same vote. Yeas 34, nays 19.

The Court then proceeded to vote on the 11th Article of Impeachment, as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Anthony, Cameron, Cattell, Chandler, Cole, Conkling, Conness, Corbett, Craigin, Drake, Edmunds, Ferry, Frelinghuysen, Harlan, Howard, Howe, Morgan, Morrill of Maine, Morrill of Vermont, Morton, Nye, Patterson, of New Hampshire, Pomeroy, Ramsey, Sherman, Sprague, Stewart, Sumner, Thayer, Tipton, Wade, Williams, Wilson Willey and Yates—35, NAYS—Messrs. Bayard, Buckalew, Davis, Dixon, Doolittle, Fessenden, Fowler, Grimes, Henderson, Hendricks, Johnson, McCreery, Norton, Patterson, of Tennessee, Ross, Saulsbury, Trumbull, Van Winkle, and Vickers—19.

Mr. Ross voted not guilty, which kills it up.

Mr. Wade voted guilty.

Anthony and Frelinghuyson voted guilty on the 11th article.

The Chief Justice announced that the President was acquitted on the 11th article.

At one o'clock Mr. McCreery moved to adjourn without delay. Lost, 6 to 47.

Mr. Henderson moved an amendment to adjourn to July 1st. Lost 20 to 34.

A motion was made that the Court adjourn to Tuesday, the 26th inst.; carried, 33 to 21, and the Court adjourned.

From Washington

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The following has been received here, directed to Senators Pomeroy and Ross, of Kansas:

LEAVENWORTH, May 14.—Kansas has heard the evidence and demands conviction of the President.

(Signed) D. R. ANTHONY,
And one thousand others.

To the above Senator Ross sent the following reply:

WASHINGTON, May 16, 1868—Gentlemen: I do not recognize your right to demand that I shall vote either for or against conviction: I have taken an oath to do impartial justice according to the Constitution and laws, and trust I shall have the courage and honesty to vote according to the dictates of my judgment and for the highest good of my country.

(Signed) E. G. Ross,

To D. R. Anthony, and others.

The Georgia Legislature.

SAVANNAH, GA., May 17.—From reliable authority it is now understood that the Georgia Legislature will be composed of three parties, democrat, radical and conservative independent. The latter hold the balance of power, and their proclivities so far are decidedly democratic. Mr. Gordon and United States Attorney Fitch will probably receive the democratic nominations for United States Senators.

POLITICAL CONUNDRUM.—How stands Butler's "apple crop" this afternoon? It has been destroyed by a too summary course of treatment.—N. Y. Express.

—It is said a movement is on foot to punish with legal penalties the Missouri Radical delegation in the Rump Congress and Radical representatives from other States, who have made use of intimidation against Senator Henderson and other judges of the impeachment court.

—The Chicago Post, as well as the Tribune, defends Senator Trumbull's course on impeachment, and treats with contemptuous indifference the denunciatory resolutions of the little narrow-minded Grant clubs.

PERIODICALS.

AN IMMENSE PRINTING HOUSE.—We are indebted to the Messrs. Appleton and Company, New York, for a cut with full description of their immense printing house and book manufactory, lately erected in Brooklyn, New York. We have not room to print the description of this great establishment, entire, but the following paragraph will give an idea of its dimensions:

Kent Avenue, a wide thoroughfare, up and down which the cars run between the two divisions of present Brooklyn, fronts the pile. It is a goodly facade—the western one. Its general appearance is castellated. There are great tower-like structures at each end, connected by a less elevated range; and midway of the latter a mighty double gate of oak and iron, at which one looks to see a warder standing. This front is 200 feet. On Penn street, to the south, the building is one story high, and extends 193 feet; on Hewes street, north it is four stories high, and 252 feet. When the contemplated additions are made, the Appletons will occupy a strongly-fortified quadrilateral, where they can hold out for an unlimited period against the severest siege of the book-buyers. The entire area then enclosed will be 55,100 square feet, or one and a quarter acres. Of this the buildings, with all the projected improvements, will not occupy more than two-thirds—thus leaving in the centre an ample space for the sunlight to rest and the winds of heaven to play in. Over a million cubic feet of space are included in the buildings, as they now stand. So says the architect, and people generally will take his word for it, in preference to measuring for themselves.

The building is complete in all its appointments. On each floor is a fire plug ready for attachment, and the machinery is propelled by an eighty-horse engine. In all respects this is probably the most complete printing house in the world.

THE LADY'S FRIEND FOR JUNE.—Whatever the Ladies' Magazines may have been in times past, some of those of the present day, both in respect to engravings and as to their literary contents, are of a very high character. The steel engravings are executed in the best style of art—the fashions are refined, judicious and elegant—while their literary contents often surpass in their peculiar line the efforts of the masculine monthlies. To blame these magazines for not being more solid and heavy, is as sensible as to blame a young girl for not being an old man—or a rose for not being a potato. We take the magazine before us—one of the best of its class—and what do we find? A well executed and suggestive steel engraving, called "The Prisoner of State." A handsome and picturesque colored steel fashion plate of Fancy Costumes. An interesting wood engraving of the "First Church in England;" and a number of other engravings illustrative of the present modes for women and children's dresses. And, in addition to all this, novelets and stories by such writers as Harriet Prescott Spofford, Elizabeth Prescott, Amanda M. Douglass, August Bell, Miss Muzzey, &c. Now when in addition to such writers, we give the names of Mrs. Henry Wood (the English novelist), Louise Chandler Moulton, Florence Percy, Margaret Hosmer, and others who contribute to the LADY'S FRIEND, our readers will see that this magazine must necessarily take as high a rank in literature, as it evidently does in fashion. The truth is that, so costly are the adornments of these ladies' magazines, it takes a very large edition even to pay their expenses. The "Lady's Friend" is published by Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, at $2.50 a year (which also includes a large steel engraving.) Sample copies, 15 cents.

DEMOREST'S ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY.—This periodical has risen from being a mere Gazette of Fashion, to the position of the popular parlor magazine. Ladies who take it think "the world of it," as their phrase is, and are quite sure they could not get along without it. Confessing our ignorance of those points which would enable us to do entire justice to its merits, we may freely admit that it is most carefully and conscientiously conducted, that its literary tone is far superior to the general run of parlor periodicals, that its range of topics includes nearly all interesting to women, that its information upon household subjects is complete and reliable, and its authority indisputable. Moreover, its patterns alone are worth double the cost of the magazine. A large and unusually interesting amount of reading-matter is promised for July, for country enjoyment. Three dollars yearly. Published by W. J. DEMOREST, 473 Broadway, N. Y.

THE GALAXY.—We have before us the June number of the best of the literary monthlies. The "Galaxy" is able, sensible and just; able as a literary work, sensible as to its editorials and just in its criticism. "Steven Lawrence, Yeoman," is concluded in the present number. "Jarocho Life," by Mayne Reid, and "A Trip to Wyandotte Cave," by F. M. Cary, are worth the price of one year's subscirption. There is also a number of fine illustrations. Address Sheldon & Co., 498 and 500 Broadway, N. Y. city.

PETERSON'S.—The June number of the queen of the ladies' magazines, "Peterson's Ladies' National," is on our table. It is rich in tales, poetry and fashion gossip, and as for illustrations, it cannot be excelled. Every lady should be a subscriber to "Peterson." Published by Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut st., Philadelphia.

—Dr. Blanton stabbed and killed Col. Hinds, at Greenville, Tennessee, last week, and fatally wounded Mayor Byrne, who keeps the wharf boat.

Reconstruction Bearing Fruits--A Negro shoots Mr. Brockenbrough--Gen. Lee prevents a mob.

From the Lynchburg (Va.) Republican, May 12.

On Friday night last, Mr. Francis Henry Brockenbrough, son of the Hon. John W. Brockenbrough, and brother of our highly esteemed townsman, Major J. B. Brockenbrough, was walking home, in Lexington, with his mother and another lady, when they were met by a negro man and some negro women, who refused to give them any way on the pavement. Young Brockenbrough, on account of the ladies under his charge, did not call the negro to account at the time; but, after he had escorted his companions home, he returned, and called on the negro, more to demand why the insult had been offered him and the ladies, than with any definite purpose of punishment. The black scoundrel, however, drew a pistol at once, shot Mr. Brockenbrough in the breast, inflicting a dangerous if not a fatal wound. The negro was arrested at 2 o'clock next morning and placed in jail. When the circumstances of the outrage became generally known, there was an intense excitement in the community, in which young Brockenbrough is much beloved, and a crowd started for the jail with the purpose of lynching the negro. General Lee, however, very properly interposed, and prevented the execution of this purpose. The excited crowd dispersed, and the law will be suffered to take its course.

REASONS WHY.

We are enabled to offer superior inducements to purchasers of clothing, to which your attention is respectfully invited.

We have a business experience of more than 25 years, have been longer established than any house in our trade in Philadelphia.

We employ sufficient capital to make ALL PURCHASES FOR CASH, which, together with the fact that our large business enables us to buy in large amounts in first hands, thereby saving all profits of jobbers and middlemen, give us advantages in purchasing at the lowest rates, SHARED BY NO HOUSE IN OUR TRADE.

We sell only for cash and having no losses from bad debts to provide for, the paying customer is not TAXED TO HELP PAY THE DEBT OF ANOTHER who does not pay, as is inevitably the case in a business where credit is given.

We employ the best talent in all departments, which, with long experience, enable us to manufacture garments SUPERIOR IN EVERY RESPECT—equalled by few—surpassed by none.

We have the largest establishment for the manufacture and sale of clothing in Philadelphia, extending through from 518 Market street to 511 Minor street, occupied exclusively by ourselves, also a branch store at 600 Broadway, New York, and keep at all times of

MEN'S, YOUTH'S and BOYS' READY-MADE CLOTHING, the largest stock and best assortment in the city, from which any person can be accurately fitted at once, as well, or better, than by garments made to order, our large stock comprising every size of all styles of goods. We have recently added to our previous stock a full assortment of CHILDREN'S GARIBALDI AND OTHER SUITS, equal to any in the city in style, trimming, and make; which are sold at lower prices than have hitherto been known in Philadelphia. We have also recently opened on our SECOND FLOOR A CUSTOM DEPARTMENT for the display of a choice selection of Foreign and Domestic Fabrics in the piece, which will be MADE UP TO ORDER, in the best style, by competent and skillful cutters and workmen. The advantage of dealing with a CASH HOUSE will be especially apparent in this department, upon a comparison of prices.

REPORT OF W. M. HALL IN THE POOR HOUSE MATTER.—We give below the report of W. M. Hall, Esq., appointed by the Court, auditor to take testimony, find the facts and make report, &c. It will be seen that the facts as found by the Auditor, are unfavorable to the retention of the Mill by the County, though the examination into the affairs of the Mill was confined to the period anterior to 1860. Our information is that the Mill has made a handsome return to the County since 1860. The order of the Court, which we append, and which was made after Mr. Hall's report was filed, disapproves the proposed sale of the Poor House property, but approves the proposed erection of a new Poor House.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Bedford County, at April Sessions, 1868.

The report of William Maclay Hall, auditor, pro ut certificate of appointment hereto attached, to take testimony, find the facts, and make report, &c., in the matter of the recommendation of the Directors of the Poor and of the House of employment of Bedford County in regard to the erection of a new Poor House, and the sale of the present Poor House property, respectfully represents:

That having been first duly sworn to perform the duties of his appointment with fidelity, and having given notice of the time and place of hearing by publication in both news-papers published in Bedford he proceeded to take testimony, full notes of which are hereto attached. And your auditor reports the following facts as deduced from and sustained by the testimony:

First. That the buildings on the present property are not at all suitable for the proper maintaining and employment of the Poor. That the building known as the poor house is entirely too small; of inconvenient arrangement; illy ventilated; with no means of keeping the sexes separate; no arrangement for heating except stoves; no proper place for keeping a patient with contagious disease; no proper place for insane persons; no running water in the building, nor water closets; and that there is an imperative necessity for the erection of a building in which the defects above enumerated would be remedied.

Second. That there is an open space between the Steward's house and the poor house, which is about 150 feet long, 80 feet wide, from the turnpike to the race, which would be suitable for the erection of a proper poor house, that the mill race is an admirable sewer for carrying off all offensive matter; that the old building could be retained and used to advantage for wayfarers; that the spring at the foot of the mountain, which now supplies the property with water, is ample and never-failing, and can be carried in pipes to the top of a three storied house; in short that there is no better location as to water and sewerage to be found anywhere.

Third. That your auditor has examined with some care the accounts, check-books, and auditors' reports of the Poor House from 1843 to 1860, inclusive; that the remainder, from 1861 to 1868, were not examined for want of time; that the manner of keeping the accounts, checks and reports for the said years, is neither business-like nor accurate; that there are great obscurities and opportunities for errors, and some things which look very much like errors; that no prudent man would manage his business or keep his books as the business and books of the Poor House Mill have been managed and kept; that, as per statement hereto attached, the receipts of the mill over the expenditures from Dec. 2, 1842, to Jan. 1, 1861 amounts to $544.86, being $30.27 per annum, and that in fact if all the expenditures for the mill, race, dam and miller's house, and in managing and carrying on the business of the mill and the bad debts made for mill products, could be arrived at with precision, the expenditures of the mill during said period have exceeded the receipts probably by a considerable amount.

Fourth. That the mill and miller's house, with about two acres adjacent, including the upper garden and ground enough to make a basin to hold a supply of water, could be sold for from eight to twelve thousand dollars.

Fifth. That the Poor House farm contains 520 acres, most of which is mountain land. That, apart from the mill, this would sell for from four to six thousand dollars; that except a good garden of an acre or two and a tolerably good meadow of about twenty acres, there is about forty acres of cold and wet second-class farm land, and the remainder is mountain pasture and timber, most of it of very little value.

Sixth. That certain persons have offered for sale farms, as per offers hereto attached, as follows:

1st. The property of John, Samuel and Daniel Snyder, situate in Snakespring township, containing 173 acres and allowance of 6 per cent., and adjoining lands of W. Forney, Michael Wareham, Andrew Snowberger, John Snyder and Michael S. Ritchey.

This tract is offered at the sum of sixty dollars per acre in payments, and is reported to possess a never failing stream of water which can be carried to any part of the building.

Second. The property of John Hafer, situate in Bedford township, containing 100 acres more or less, and adjoining lands of Wm. Smith, the Hollidaysburg turnpike on the East, lands of Samuel Diehl, David Points, Charles Stuckey, and Ezra Williamson.

This property is offered for the sum of seven thousand dollars, and is reported to possess only fifteen acres of uncleared land, to be all tillable, to contain a good orchard; limestone and brick clay for building purposes, and an excellent quality of water which may be carried at the different building sites to an elevation averaging from 14 to 36 feet.

Third. The property of Jerry Shea, situate in Shover's Valley, Cumberland Valley township, containing about 160 acres, 75 acres of which is cleared. Is well watered.

This tract is offered for the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars in payments with interest, and is reported to be principally limestone, and to possess 15 acres of meadow.

Seventh. That there have been three new mills, to wit: Hartleys' steam mill, Dicken's mill, in Bedford township, and G. Blackburn's mill in Snake Spring township, which have been erected within the custom of the Poor House mill, so that the custom work of the said mill is not sufficient to keep it going, and in order to carry on said mill, it is necessary to buy grain and use a capital of about four thousand dollars, and that the business is attended with risk, and is illy suited for the management of the Poor Directors and their Steward.

All of which is respectfully submitted. W. M. HALL, Auditor.

The following is the order of the Court directing the building of a new Poor House.

And now, to wit: May 2, 1868, the Court upon hearing and due consideration approve so much of the report of the Grand Jury as recommends the erection of a new poor house for the purpose of comfortably sheltering and maintaining poor, sick and insane persons, required by the law to be supported by the county—and disapprove of that part of said report which recommends the sale of farm and property on which the present poor house now stands.

By the Court.

POOR HOUSE MILL RECEIPTS.—The Inquirer, of last week, gives an exhibit of the receipts, &c., of the Poor House Mill, from 1843 to 1860, with a view of showing that that institution does not pay. The public would prefer to know how the Mill has paid from 1860 until the present, and how it pays now. We have always inclined to the belief that it would be better for the county if the present Poor House property were sold and a good farm purchased some three or four miles from this place, upon which to erect the proper buildings. But the Court has decreed that there shall be no sale, and we bow in humble submission. We presume the Court was satisfied that the Mill makes a fair return, at present, else it would have directed the sale. According to Mr. Hall's report, the Mill is worth more than all the remainder of the Poor House property.

DEATH OF DR. W. H. WATSON.—It becomes our melancholy duty to announce the death of Dr. W. H. Watson, which occurred at his residence in this place, at 7 o'clock, this (Wednesday) morning. A good and true man has been taken from our midst. How we shall miss him! His courteous, affable manner, his words of friendly greeting for every one, his readiness to attend upon the afflicted, whether rich or poor, his faithfulness and gentleness, his great professional skill,—alas! we shall know them no more forever. It is only left us to say the everlasting farewell.

DEATH OF MRS. W. P. SCHELL.—We are pained to record the eath of the estimable wife of our neighbor and friend, Hon. W. P. Schell, which occurred on Friday morning last, after a lingering and painful illness. Such is life and such is death! Truly, we know not "the hour when the Son of Man cometh."

COOL WEATHER.—Truly, "Winter lingers in the lap of Spring." Here we are, in the closing days of the month of flowers, and hail storms and gusts of cold rain are the order of the time. Jack Frost is hanging on the verge of the Alleghenies and threatens us nightly with his icy spear. The Clerk of the weather must be in collusion with Ben. Butler in keeping back the "apple-blossoms" until "Wade and prosperity shall come."

SOLDIER'S DISCHARGES.—We see that by an Act of Assembly, Soldier's discharges shall be recorded free of tax. The future value of these papers to their holders, should make it an object to have them on record at once. Bounty lands, pensions, &c., that most likely will be granted hereafter, can be obtained on these records when witnesses have died and the original papers have been lost or mislaid.—Inquirer.

IMPEACHMENT.—Great excitement has been caused by the Impeachment question, in regard to the eleven articles, but more than a dozen of different articles in the way of Linen and Paper Collars, Cuffs, &c., just received at Irvine's, have stirred up a wonderful commotion. Sleeve Buttons, Ladies' and Gents', in great variety, at Irvine's Regulator. Ladies' paper collars (perfect imitation of honiton lace) and cuffs, at the same place.—Dickens Collars, latest styles, at the Regulator, going off rapidly. Now is your time. Don't wait till they are all gone.

CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad Company held at Pittsburg last week, it was agreed to accept the ordinance passed by the Baltimore councils, authorizing "the removal and extension of the mortgage due the city of Baltimore by the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad Company, and to fund arrears of interest due thereby," together with the supplement theroto.

IT is not probable that Absalom was obliged to use any hair preparation to force his hair to grow to such an extreme length as it is said to have attained. In our day, however, people quite frequently find it neccessary to call scientific skill to aid them in this respect. Such will find their every wish supplied in "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative."—Davenport (Iowa) Democrat.

WE are pleased to see that the County Commissioners have planted shade trees about the Court House and Jail. This is an improvement long since needed. It will add much to the beauty of the Square, and give the cooling shade so much coveted during the hot season.

BRICK WANTED.—The county commissioners want two hundred and fifty thousand bricks for the new alms house. The attention of brick-makers is directed to their advertisement to be found in another column.

BEAUTIFUL and of uniform excellence, A well-known, safe, and speedy agent for Restoring gray hair to its original color, for preventing the loss of the hair, for promoting its healthy growth and increasing its beauty, a gradual but certain cure for baldness, and an essential toilet requisite for all who prize the choicest gift of nature, a bountiful supply of hair; the above is said by all who use Mrs. S. A. Allen's Impoved (new style) Hair Restorer or Dressing, (in one bottle.) Every Druggist sells it. Price One Dollar. w4

PHILADELPHIA CLOTH HOUSE.—We call attention to the card of Messrs. Moyer, Feldman & Co., Philadelphia, dealers in cloths, cassimeres, &c. Our particular friend, Mr. Felix Heyman, well known to the merchants of this county, is a partner in this house, which is a sufficient guarantee that it is "all right." We advise our mercantile friends to call upon him and make their purchases at his place.

It would be a gross libel to say that ladies use tobacco, yet, if you present a a bottle PHALON'S new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," to a pretty girl, she will be very apt to open it and take a little snuff. Sold by all druggists.

NOTICE TO DELINQUENTS.—We have placed our books and accounts in the hands of John P. Reed, Esq., of thsi place, for collection. All accounts for subscription for the year ending August 1, 1868, remaining unpaid, are included in the bills which Mr. Reed is authorized to collect. We have been compelled to resort to this course in order to obtain a settlement of our accounts. We have too much to do to attend to making out bills, and we are tired of dunning. Money we must have, as we have many debts to pay, and we desire to act honestly with our creditors. Therefore, we ask all to pay Mr. Reed, who can, and those who cannot, we ask to call and settle. If there is any thing in their accounts by which they consider themselves aggrieved, let them call on us, and we will make all right that is not right. Friends, let us have the old scores wiped out, and begin anew

PROSPECTUS
1868. "THE AGE," 1868
"THE AGE."
A Democratic Daily and Weekly Journal in Philadelphia.
The attention of the Democrats and Conservative-citizens of the country is called to the Daily and Weekly issues of this widely circulated journal. The dissemination of sound political doctrines should command the earnest attention of every true friend of the Union and the Constitution. The events of the past political year are full of significance. The uprising of The People in opposition to the destructive policy of Radicalism, clearly shows that the masses are determined to restore again to power the great Democratic party, every page of whose history is filled with the glory and prosperity of our common country. No more effectual method for presenting the Truth can be devised, than in circulating Democratic journals. It is the intention of the Proprietors of The Age to make it, in every way worthy of the support and confidence that have heretofore been extended to it. Improvements are contemplated in every department, and no pains or expense will be spared to keep it in the front rank of American journalism.
The Daily Age contains the latest intelligence from all parts of the world, with articles on Government, Politics, Trade, Finance, and all the current questions of the day; Local Intelligence, Market Reports, Prices Current, Stock Quotation, Marine and Commercial Intelligence, Reports of Public Gatherings, Foreign and Domestic Correspondence Legal Reports, Book Notices, Theatrical Criticisms, Reviews of Literature, Art and Music, Agricultural Matters, and discussions of whatever subjects are of general interest and importance. Besides Special Telegrams, it has all the dispatches of the Associated Press from every part of the United States, and also the Associated Press dispatches received by the Atlantic Cable; and the news from all parts of Europe brought by the steamers, is instantly telegraphed from whatever point the steamer first touches.
The Weekly Age will be a complete compendium of the news of the week, and besides the leading editorials from the Daily, will contain a large amount of interesting matter prepared expressly for the weekly issue. It will be in all respects a first-class family journal, particularly adapted to the Politician, the Farmer, the Merchant, the Family Circle, and the General Reader, having, in fact, every characteristic of a live newspaper. At an early day will be begun an intensely interesting serial, by one of the most popular and fascinating authors, and it is also the intention to publish, from week to week, in the course of the year, three or four of the best and latest novels.
Terms of the Daily.—One copy, one year, $9.00; six months, $5.00; three months, $2.50; for any less period, at the rate of one Dollar per month. Payment required invariably in advance. ESTEY'S COTTAGE ORGANS are still ahead of all competitors and stand unrivalled in POWER, PURITY OF TONE and BRILLIANCY, and all other points which go to make a first-class instrument.
The "VOX HUMANA TREMOLO" is the greatest of all modern improvements on reed instruments. It CHARMS and SURPRISES all who hear it, by its wonderful resemblance to the HUMAN VOICE. Do not confound this with the common tremolo in use. It is entirely different, and far superior to any other.

The effect of your "Tremolo" is entirely new to me, and is certainly the best I ever heard.—GEO. W. MORGAN. [The first Organist of America.
No Tremolo has yet been invented that will in any degree compare with this for beauty of effect. In fact, it seems to me to be absolutely perfect.—WM. A. JOHNSON, Pipe Organ Builder.
Estey's Cottage Organs are without a superior for exceedingly quick articulation and round tone—the essential features in instruments of this class.—GEO. JARDINE, Pipe Organ Builder.
The Cottage Organ is the best of its class I ever saw, and the best adapted for church music of any in use.—C. HEINTZ, Organist, Findlay, O.
I am much pleased with the Cottage Organ which I purchased from you; it combines sweetness and power in an unusual degree, and is quite a favorite in our family circle.—BISHOP SIMPSON.
We know no organs of the class which possess so many valuable qualities.—INDEPENDENT.
For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for the church it has a power more organ-like than anything we have seen.—METHODIST.
Persons wishing to purchase an organ are requested to examine the Estey instruments now in use at the Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches, Bedford, Pa. jul26,'67

MEDICAL.—DR. A. S. SMITH, having resumed the Practice of Medicine, solicits a generous share of the patronage of the community. Office in his residence, at St Clairsville.
He would call the attention of the public, and to those more immediately interested to the following: His health being too delicate to bear much of the fatigues and exposures consequent on general practice, he has adopted a speciality in the profession.
Soon after commencing practice, some twenty years since, he was attracted by the almost universality of female complaints, both in the married and single state. Partly from natural inclination, and in order to obtain success in practice, these complaints were made the subject of incessant study. These alterations, displacements and deranged functions of the organs peculiar to the female, are owing to that refined sense of delicacy on the part of the female, who, ignorant of the consequences, prefers to suffer in silence rather than expose her situation. Seldom cured by the general practitioner, who is prevented by this delicacy from acquiring by experience that tact and skill necessary to discriminate the exact change present, and contents himself with prescribing for the deranged functions, or overlooking the cause, simply for attendant nervous disorders, founding his prescriptions on a Plethoric Anæmonic state of the general system and the result is no benefit, as the number of the long suffering females bears ample testimony. Believing that he has, from long and special attention paid to them, acquired that skill in discriminating and experience in treating, he solicits the suffering to give him a call. No charges for consultation or examination. Visits made to all parts of the county.
Applications for medicines can be made in writing by accompanying stamp for return letter.—Medicines sent when desired. TERMS invariably cash for all medicines and instruments.

Publications.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requsite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interst, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, THE WORLD will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interterence; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of THE WORLD, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, THE WORLD will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the THE WORLD prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The WEEKLY WORLD, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one.
